"Conference" refers to the SMSF Professionals Day 2024 online and in-person events for which the Tickets are being sold.

"Organiser" refers to Accurium Pty Ltd (ABN 12 009 492 219) and Benchmark Media (ABN 43 564 725 109).

"Ticket holder" refers to the individual purchasing tickets for the Conference.

"Ticket" refers to the rights for admission to the Conference.

2. PURCHASE AND PAYMENT

Tickets are purchased through the Accurium website and Ticket Holders agree to the Accurium – General Terms and Conditions (available at www.accurium.com.au).

During the checkout process, the Ticket holder is responsible for providing accurate and complete information regarding their dietary requirements and any other information requested.

The Organisers will make reasonable efforts to accommodate a Ticket holder's needs based on the information provided at the time of the Ticket purchase. Failure to provide accurate and complete information may result in the Organiser being unable to accommodate these requirements or needs on the day of the Conference. The Ticket holder acknowledges that any inaccuracies or incomplete information provided at the time of purchase may not be rectifiable after purchase and may lead to unfulfilled needs on the day of the Conference. If the Ticket holder has a Ticket for an in-person Conference location and cancels in-person attendance up to two weeks prior to the event, an additional fee may be charged.

Tickets may not be resold, transferred, or exchanged without the written permission of the Organiser. Any Tickets found to be obtained fraudulently will be void and will result in refusal of entry to the Conference.

A Ticket holder agrees to purchase Tickets for the Conference from the Organiser by paying the price as listed by the Organiser. All prices are quoted in Australian Dollars. Tickets may be offered at a discount to the standard published price at the Organiser's absolute discretion.

3. USE OF TICKETS

A Ticket is valid only for the date and time of the Conference for which a Ticket was purchased. Each Ticket purchase is for individual use only. Each Ticket holder with a Ticket to the online Conference event will be provided with a unique session ID to join which cannot be disclosed, forwarded, or distributed to any other individual without the Organiser's written consent.

4. EVENT CHANGES

The Organisers reserve the right to make alterations to the time, date, and venue of the Conference for reasons including, but not limited to, safety concerns, weather conditions, or unforeseen events that make the continuation of the Conference as scheduled infeasible. For any significant changes ticket holders will be entitled to a refund or exchange.

If a Conference event is postponed or cancelled, the Organisers will provide written notification to the Ticket holder. If an in-person Conference event is postponed, the Ticket holder's original Ticket will be valid for the rescheduled date. If the Ticket holder is unable to attend the Conference live at the new date/time, or the event is cancelled, the Organisers will provide the Ticket holder with access to the live online Conference event. The Ticket holder may alternatively request a refund of the monies paid by contacting the Organisers directly, with all requests to be considered on a case by case basis in the Organisers' absolute discretion.

In the unlikely situation that the live online Conference event is cancelled Organisers' will refund the Ticket holder the full cost of their purchase.

You are strongly advised to secure appropriate travel and health insurance. Tickets do not provide any such insurance coverage. The Organisers accept no responsibility for any loss in this regard.

5. INDEMNITY

Organisers are in no way responsible for inaccurate or incomplete information supplied by a Ticket holder. Organisers do not accept any responsibility for any use or misuse by a Ticket holder of information obtained from attendance at the Conference.

Ticket holders unconditionally release Organisers from any liability, claims, demands or damages of any kind arising out of or in connection with any use of or access to the Conference event, or any action taken or reliance upon any information provided as part of the Conference event.
